THE DIVINING BALL.

A Scientific Apparatus for Locating Buried Metal.

TRUCKEE, May 2.—A. W. Chellis has invented an electrical mineral ball which unerringly indicates the location of gold and silver coin when buried, and of ledges of gold and silver ore. He has given several tests before a select number of witnesses, always meeting with perfect success.

Today over 100 citizens witnessed two trials under test conditions. The inventor was carefully blinded and a large sum of money was concealed below the round house. By means of his ingenious apparatus the hidden treasure was found inside of ten minutes. The experiment was repeated, and each time it was successful.

A gentlemen who was present at these experiments gives the APPEAL the following description of the working of the apparatus:

"It consists of a ball containing seven chemicals, suspended by means of a cord which has been treated with chemicals, from a strong tripod. The exact point of suspension is four small magnets, and these magnets are connected by means of insulated wires with copper tips at the lower ends of the tripod. By this means the ball is in electrical communication with the earth. Of course the mechanism is difficult to explain for the reason that the inventor has no protection except the secrecy which surrounds the apparatus. For that reason he has concealed the most important chemicals and secrets in the ball, and in the small hub which surmounts the top of the tripod. The affair is quite ingenious, and complicated, but its workings are plain and simple. The ball immediately swings toward the hidden coin, and thus gives a base line. The instrument is then set at some point removed from this line, and again the ball swings towards the money. At the point where this second line intersects the first, the money can be unearthed. Any person can operate the machine as well as Mr. Chellis. It is founded upon well established principles of science, and combines electricity, magnetism and the chemical affinity of certain substances for the precious metals. From the exhibitions given, it would seem that Mr. Chellis has made a discovery that will revolutionize the methods of prospecting. The ball is attracted more readily to bodies of ore than it is to coin.

In connection with the above the writer recalls the sensation made years ago by Prof. Crosby who could tell the presence of any metal or primate by an apparatus. Thos. A. Edison the inventor claimed unhesitatingly and in the writers presence in Virginia City that Crosby's theory that every substance in nature had its affinity, was founded on a well known scientific law and Edison said that he had demonstrated to his own satisfaction that the divining-rod was capable of locating hidden mineral.

ENTITLED TO CREDIT.—All honor to John P. Jones. In the Republican caucus he incautiously gave his assent to the bill that was agreed upon, but upon further investigation he found to be saddled with a clause which left its entire execution in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury—a bill which was entirely satisfactory to the gold bugs, but the reverse to the silver men. As soon as he discovered his mistake, he declared his intention of repudiating the action of the caucus, and of opposing the bill. It requires true courage to acknowledge an error, and Senator Jones has exhibited genuine manliness in the course he has pursued in this matter.—Times Review.

THE WASHOE TRAGEDY.—On Sunday about a hundred people were at the Lake drawn by the fishing mania and curiosity to see if the bodies of the three missing men would be recovered. They did not come to the surface. Last evening it was rumored that they had been recovered but it could be traced to no reliable source.

The Virginia Scrap

The glove fight at Virginia City lasted twenty-seven rounds. The audience was determined to see the men fight it out and the referee disregarded the fouls which were numerous enough to start a well equipped chicken ranch. Fell did all of the fighting until he struck his head against a ring post and then got a bad upper-cut in the face which placed him out of the mill.

The fight was a wrestling match part of the time, though under Queensbury rules and Kehoe frequently placed his hand over the other's mouth to shut off his wind, a palpable foul that the referee paid no attention to. Fell went out in the 27th, and Kehoe is now down at Steamboat Springs, where it is said he is threatened with death by blood-poisoning, his side being terribly beaten.

Hardly any blood was shed in the battle. The referee did not decide the fight on a foul, as it would not have given satisfaction to the audience, who wanted to see a finish, even if it was a rough and tumble affair.

It would be a good plan in a case of that kind to fine the man who foules 10 per cent. of the stakes, and collect the fine on the spot. With such a rule, much of the foul fighting would be headed off.

HALLEN & HART.—The popular comedians, Hallen and Hart with their famous company of actors and soubrettes will present their musical farce-comedy "Later On" at the Carson Opera House, Tuesday evening, May 6th. The company have just ended the longest engagement played by any company this season at the Bush St. Theatre, San Francisco. The play is a satire on anglomania; it is replete with brilliant music, witty lines, clever sayings; and the costumes are marvels of the mantau-maker's art. The organization is one of the most complete on the road.

THE USUAL QUIET ELECTION.—The city was as quiet as the tomb yesterday the occasion being the city election. Ex-Policeman Bryant put an opposition ticket in the field about 10 o'clock. The result was as follows:

REGULAR.
Trustee at Large—T. R. Hofer, 151.
Trustee, First Ward—W. D. Torreyson, 51.
Trustee, Second Ward—Geo. W. Richard, 91.

OPPOSITION.
Trustee at Large—T. R. Hofer, 191.
Trustee, First Ward—Loyet A. Hawthorne, 116.
Trustee, Second Ward—E. M. Reynolds, 114.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty five cents a bottle.

COUGH! AND COUGH! AND COUGH!!—What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. W. H. Chedie, Druggist.

WHAT ON EARTH—Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S' BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing.—W. H. Chedie Druggist.
